Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) Relating to COVID-19 for Texas Businesses and Community Economic Development Partners

Our priority is the health and safety of Texas residents, local businesses and communities throughout the state. The Office of the Governor’s Economic Development & Tourism staff and our community partners are closely monitoring the situation and following the advice of health officials and government agencies. This is a dynamic situation and we will update this information as we find out about new resources and hear about new policies devised to help businesses cope during and after this crisis. For additional news and resources regarding the Coronavirus (COVID-19), go to gov.texas.gov/business/coronavirus.

Q: I am struggling to pay my taxes as I normally would. What should I do?
A: The Comptroller’s Office recognizes these are challenging times. During periods of economic hardship, paying or remitting taxes and fees on time can feel like an extra burden when there’s so much uncertainty. The Comptroller’s Office is offering assistance to those businesses that are struggling to pay the full amount of sales taxes they collected in February. This assistance is in the form of short-term payment agreements and, in most instances, waivers of penalties and interest.

In addition, the Comptroller’s Office is temporarily suspending the 60-day deadline for businesses to contest audit results. This applies to both redetermination and refund hearings. The Office will waive interest accrued during this period, and will notify businesses to reestablish a request deadline at a later date. For more information on requesting a hearing, visit: https://bit.ly/2UA2Gqy

Please contact the Comptroller’s Enforcement Hotline at 800-252-8880 to learn about your options for remaining in compliance and avoiding interest and late fees on taxes due.

In addition, the office has a variety of online tools for businesses seeking assistance. See COVID-19 emergency response webpage for access to online tools, tutorials and other resources for tax services.

Employment:

Q: As an employer, where can I get advice about what I should do in this crisis?
A: The Texas Workforce Commission – Resources for Employers provides information and actionable advice for employers facing layoffs or interacting with employees during this crisis. The site offers an option for subscribers to receive updates as new content is posted.

Q: I am self-employed and can no longer work during this crisis. Can I apply for unemployment assistance?
A: Freelancers, independent contractors and other self-employed individuals are not currently covered by the state’s unemployment benefits, unless they have sufficient wages reported from covered employers aside from their independent contractor or freelance work. This is because those types of workers do not have sufficient wage credits paid into the unemployment insurance system. There is a federal program, Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA), which is a cooperative effort between the U.S. Department of Labor and the State of Texas. However, at this time, the federal government has not authorized that program. If you are self-employed, please check in with the Texas Workforce
Commission (TWC) regularly to see if DUA has become available. Additionally, if you are unsure of whether you qualify for unemployment benefits, you may call TWC’s Commissioner Representing Labor at (800) 832-2829. Click on the link to learn more about Disaster Unemployment Assistance.

Funding/Loans:
Q: I am a small business and need a loan to stay in business. What options are available?
A: The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is offering low-interest federal disaster loans for working capital to small businesses suffering substantial economic injury as a result of COVID-19. The Economic Injury Disaster Loans can be made to small businesses, most private non-profit organizations and small agricultural cooperatives. These loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that can’t be paid because of the disaster’s impact. The interest rate is 3.75% for small businesses and 2.75% for non-profits. Terms are determined on a case by case basis, based on each borrower’s ability to repay.

Small businesses who believe they may be eligible for an SBA EIDL, should visit the SBA’s website where they can directly apply for assistance. The online application is the fastest method to receive a decision about loan eligibility.

Q: I am thinking about applying for the SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL). Do you have any information for me to consider before applying?
A: The SBA knows this is an unprecedented event and is working diligently to ensure resources are made available to those small businesses in need of assistance. SBA loan reviews and approvals will be on a case-by-case basis, so applicants should be sure they have provided everything required to make the application complete or applications will be returned. There are several forms that will need to be completed, regarding considerable current and historical information about the business. Guidelines regarding the application are listed on the SBA disaster loan website. The SBA disaster loan application is available online here.

Q: Besides SBA loans, where can I go for financial assistance for my business?
A: Financial resources may be available in your local community. Check with your local and regional economic development organization for local resources which may be available, as well as your local financial institutions. Community Development Finance Institutions (CDFI) may also be able to provide assistance. Click here to download the full list of CDFIs in Texas.

Other:
Q: I have a restaurant and cannot serve people on premises during the crisis. How can I keep my business alive?
A: We know this is a challenging time for restaurants and other service-related industries who are not able to serve patrons onsite. However, these restrictions will ensure the health and safety of our residents and neighbors. Many restaurants are offering take-out, drive-thru and delivery options for customers. Additionally, Governor Abbott issued a waiver that now allows restaurants with a mixed beverage permit to deliver alcoholic beverages with food purchases to patrons, including beer, wine and mixed drinks. Visit the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission website to learn more about the qualifications necessary for your restaurant to offer this service.
Q: I can supply emergency supplies to Texas state agencies involved in COVID-19 emergency response. How can I connect with these state agency buyers?
A: Governor Abbott created the Texas Supply Chain Strike Force to help source critical equipment for medical providers, such as personal protective equipment (PPE) and infection-control products. Visit the Texas Supply Chain Strike Force Portal to submit any supplies for procurement consideration or donation to the State of Texas. Due to the pressing timeline, the Supply Chain Strike Force will only consider procurement with companies that offer the following information in the initial outreach: product type, available inventory, units they can produce per day/week, the price per unit, tax ID, FDA registered (yes/no) and shipment date. For any questions, contact dfsc@soc.texas.gov.

Q: My county has a “Shelter-in-Place” order. How can I find out what businesses are deemed essential and allowed to remain open?
A: If your city and/or county has issued Shelter in Place orders, please review those orders for what your community has designated as an “essential” business.

Q: Where else can I find information that could help my business during the crisis?
A: For the most up-to-date information, please utilize the following resources:
- Additional SBA Resources & Programs
- Texas Department of State Health Services
- Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- World Health Organization
- Texas Department of Licensing & Regulation
- Texas Comptroller’s Office
- Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission
- Texas Department of Agriculture
- AssistHer Emergency Relief Grant for Women-Owned Businesses

The federal government has a “one stop shop” regarding the Government Response to Coronavirus, COVID-19. This page is being updated daily and has the most current federal government agency actions and information. Of particular interest are the actions the U.S. Small Business Administration is taking to help small business during this uncertain time.

Updated March 27, 2020